CAB ANNOUNCES WINNER IN CLEAN AIR ART CONTEST

Winner to receive savings bond

CARLISLE – The Clean Air Board of Central Pennsylvania (CAB) is pleased to announce that 10-year-old Malcolm Scobell, a student at Iron Forge Educational Center in Boiling Springs, won the Clean Air Art Contest and will be given a savings bond at an award ceremony to be held at 7:00 pm, Tuesday, March 20 at the Carlisle Arts Learning Center (CALC) located at 19 N. Hanover Street, Carlisle. The award ceremony will be part of the opening reception for A Celebration of Student Art sponsored by CALC and Carlisle Area School District. The event is from 6:30 to 8:00 p.m.

CAB is using the winning design on note cards and posters that will be available for purchase.
